2.2 International Matches

2.2.1 International matches are competitions between teams of all age levels, for men and women, pertaining to member federations of IFA, who are free to agree them.

2.2.2 Once a match has been agreed, the organizing member federation shall notify the Regional Association of its time and venue.

2.2.3 After the match the organizing member federation shall

2.2.3.1 forward the original competition reports to the responsible member of the Committee and communicate the names of the referees without delay,

2.2.3.2 pay a fee to the Regional Association within four weeks of the match taking place, if the Regional Association has foreseen a fee.

3. Organizer

Potential hosts for the competitions could be:

- a national IFA member association or
- a club or
- a city in co-operation with a club or
- the International Fistball Association (IFA) itself.

The decision about the host is made by the IFA Board of Directors.

4. Organization

The IFA Board of Directors is responsible for the overall organization of the competitions and will appoint a Competition Manager (CM) for each event.

The host is responsible and cost bearer of the preparation, organisation and running of the event according.

The host will be supported in the preparation and running of the event by the IFA Competition Manager.

The IFA Sports Commission is responsible for the overall technical organization of the competition. The Sports Commission shall decide on the interpretation of these IFCR as well as alterations and necessary amendments which cannot await a regular decision by the IFA Board of Directors.

The tournament is managed by the IFA Technical Delegate.

5. Basics

All competitions shall next to the IFA Statutes and codes especially be governed by the at the time of the competition current Fistball - Rules of the Game.

6. Eligibility to Compete

6.1. Nationality

All players entered by national associations must be citizens of the country they represent.

A player who has already carried out an international match of A-level is not entitled to compete for another nation. A protection of vested rights is applied.

In case a player's nationality cannot be determined, a decision shall be made by the Board of Directors.

6.2. Membership in a National Association

In case a player leaves his national federation in order to play for a team in another member federation, this is only possible if he/she can present the official release of the former federation.

A national federation shall be deemed to be the last federation the player was entitled to play for.

If a player intends to leave his member federation, he/she has to communicate this to the federation. This request can be made by mail or letter 2 months prior to his/her last game at the earliest. It can only be applied to a point in time after the last game in the federation he/she plays for at the moment of request.

The release must be issued within 2 months after the player's request, if there are no reasons for turning down the request according to the IFCR. The release can be issued by mail or letter.

In case this release is not issued, the player is regard as automatically released after another month.

Pre-condition for a new playing entitlement is the presentation of the release of the former federation by letter or mail. Exception: The release will be carried out immediately after 3 months if the release is not issued.

The basis for this playing entitlement is the national regulation of the new federation. National blocking periods might be executed.

The IFA Board of Directors finally decides on disputes and objections. This is why the IFA Secretary General shall be included in the entire correspondence from the beginning.

6.3. Team Membership

All players must be part of a team of a member federation and prove their membership by producing a valid player pass or a written confirmation of their team.

The regulations laid down by the member federations regarding the eligibility of their players shall be complied with, unless otherwise stipulated for competitions hosted by IFA.

7. Anti-Doping Rules

Regarding to the "IFA Anti-Doping Rules based on Wada's Models of Best Practice for International Federations and the World Anti-Doping Code (valid from 1.1.2015)" the International Fistball Association requires all athletes competing in all IFA competitions to fill out and hand over to the IFA Secretary General before the beginning of the competition the Anti-Doping Consent Form as original.

Doping tests at an IFA competition can be done at any time between arrival and departure. Athletes have the obligation to follow the testing order. If they wish they can be accompanied by a person of trust.
